All State agency contracts, in effect 4/1/12 or later, which includes contracts approved by the Office of the State Comptroller (OSC) and those that don't require OSC approval.	State contracts that are not yet active, meaning that: <ul style="list-style-type: none">The State agency has not finalized the contract;OSC hasn't yet received the contract for review from the State agency or authority; orOSC is currently reviewing the contract. Contracts entered into by local governments.
State authority contracts historically subject to approval by OSC (primarily for the Thruway Authority and the Long Island Power Authority only).	Detail on contract amendments to contracts that were not subject to OSC approval.
State Authority contracts reviewed or filed with OSC after October 1, 2015. These transactions are subject to OSC review or filing as result of the Public Authorities Reform Act of 2009.
* The New York State Comptroller audits contracts subject to the Comptroller's review and approval and independently reviews bid protests . This review ensures fairness among competing vendors and that agencies and vendors follow New York State's bidding and contracting rules.

Open Book State Spending provides information on budgetary activities such as payments, journal transfers, appropriated transfers, etc. The data may not match the information provided in the Office of the State Comptroller's cash reports or the State's financial plan because cash reports:

- are based on all disbursements in a particular period; and
- include accounting adjustments that don't affect the budget.

Public authorities self-report financial information in the Public Authorities Reporting Information System (PARIS), an online data entry and collection system. They use PARIS to comply with various statutory and regulatory requirements. The Office of the State Comptroller does not independently verify the data that authorities enter.

For definitions of terms, see the Public Authorities Reporting Information System Glossary.

Public Authority Search
